GREAT BRITAIN ACCEPTS U. S. TERMS ON DEBT STATE OF SIEGE PROCLAIMED IN RUHR CITIES

Paris, Jan. 31.—The French government has prepared and will notify the Germans of a new series of more drastic measures that are to be applied immediately in the occupied areas and a note also informs the Cuno government that a second and far more severe penalty will be inflicted unless resistance to French occupation ceases.

Essen, Jan. 31.—An indefinite state of siege was proclaimed today in all Ruhr cities occupied by the French and Belgians, now under a single command.

Coal is chocking pits and smothering possibilities of further production. Unless it is moved soon, mining will have to cease. The French and Germans ceased to clash although the French are putting forth every effort to use troops to run trains and operate signal poles. German rail workers quit, which resulted with a prompt strike. Railmen of the Mayence district proclaimed a walkout this morning.

William H. Connell Is Successor To Biles As Asst. Highway Chief

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—William H. Connell, of Philadelphia, was today appointed Deputy State Highway Commissioner by Paul D. Wright, head of the Highway Department. Mr. Connell will be the engineering executive of the Highway Department. Until March 1, Mr. Connell will temporarily occupy the post of chief engineer, the resignation of George H. Biles, the present Assistant Commissioner, becomes effective March 1. Mr. Biles also is a Philadelphian.

In announcing the appointment of Mr. Connell, Mr. Wright said: "I have appointed William H. Connell, of Philadelphia, as Assistant Highway Commissioner, to act as engineering executive of the department, to be effective March 1."

Mr. Connell is arranging his business affairs so that he may come to Harrisburg. He will receive a salary of $12,000 a year.

When organization members of the House and Senate, incensed at the displacement of Biles, sought to make political capital of the fact that no specific reason was assigned for his resignation, Commissioner Wright said: "Mr. Biles' resignation should not be construed as implying any reflection on his integrity or ability. After carefully looking over the field, including Mr. Biles, it was decided that Mr. Connell was, on the whole, best fitted for the place, under plans which the department has for future highway work."

Well Qualified for Post.

That statement silenced the tongues of men who asserted the administration had no real reason for dismissing Biles, except the desire to further punish the organization. From sources close to the Governor and to Commissioner Wright, it was said today they were influenced in their decision for Mr. Connell by the opinion that no man in Pennsylvania could better fill the post, where not only executive ability of a high order, technical skill, but courageous initiative are necessary.

Mr. Connell is well known as an engineer and has an international reputation as a highway engineer. For many years prior to 1912 he was in charge of public engineering work in New York and in the latter part of 1910 he constructed the White Plains experimental roadway.

London, Jan. 31.—The mark was 240,000 to the pound sterling when London Exchange opened today. This is approximately 50,000 to the American dollar.

Major Gen. Allen, commander of the American troops on the Rhine, is seen here receiving the last salute from the men who are returning to America.

TURKEY GAINS BIG FOURTH VICTIM OF ADVANTAGE THRU FRANCE'S ACTION

London, Jan. 31.—Great Britain's delegation to the Lausanne conference was forced today to withdraw its ultimatum to the Turks and agreed to stay final proceedings until Sunday evening.

Marquis Curzon, spokesman of the Allies granted a delay of four days after Ismet Pasha had declined to give a definite answer and had asked a fortnight postponement.

London, Jan. 31.—Ismet Pasha, head of Turkey's delegation to Lausanne, today took advantage of a new rift in the entente to ignore Great Britain's ultimatum and asked for some time to consider the treaty submitted by the Allies.

The surprise move of France which indicated to the Ankara government that the date last set by Marquis Curzon for Turkey's reply need not be considered final so far as the French were concerned gave the Ottoman delegate a loophole whereby to avoid a flat answer to the English.

This fresh difference between France and Great Britain, which followed the break over reparations and the Ruhr occupation, heartened the Turks and they asked that the Lausanne conference meet again next week.

Meanwhile Ismet Pasha said he hoped that everyone would do their utmost to keep the peace.

MINING INSTITUTE UNDER ORGANIZATION PROCESS; FIRST MEETING HELD JAN. 20th.

There has been a movement launched among the mining men of this region looking toward the establishment of a Coal Mining Institute for the purpose of having all mining men embraced within the territory bounded by Grampian, Snow Shoe, Janesville and McCartney, meet at least once annually for the purpose of discussing the problems encountered in mining and disseminating information relating thereto. With this in view, the following invitation has been sent out to the operators and other interested men in the district:

Little May Litzinger Dies of Burns Received When Mother and Two Other Children Died.

MOTHER HEROIC

Altoona, Jan. 29.—May Litzinger, aged six, died in the Altoona hospital this morning, the fourth member of the Litzinger family to lose her life as the result of a fire which destroyed their home at Coupon, Little Mountain town, late Saturday night. The other victims were: Mrs. Rose Litzinger, her sons Vernon, aged 13 and Edgar, aged 8, Charles, aged 10, who was badly injured that it was feared he would die.

Coupon is a little mining town in the mountains west of here, and the story of how Mrs. Litzinger gave up her life while trying to save her family did not reach here until today.

The woman and her four children retired early Saturday night and some time later Mrs. Litzinger was awakened by the crackling of flames. She went to the door leading from the stairway to the kitchen and opening it was met by a wall of flame and smoke. Returning to the bedroom, she caught up Charles and May, and shouting to the others to follow, dashed down the stairway again. She threw the children out into the kitchen beyond the flames, and then sank down, overcome by the smoke.

Meantime neighbors ran to the rescue.

BRITISH PREMIER OVERRULES VIEWS HELD BY BALDWIN

Washington, Jan. 31.—President Harding and Secretary of Treasury Mellon were highly pleased today at the announcement from London that Great Britain had accepted America's terms of settlement of the British war loan from this government.

The President smiled broadly when the news was brought to him.

London, Jan. 31.—Great Britain today accepted the American terms for a payment of the debt to the United States.

This decision was reached after Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, had made a report to Premier Bonar Law and his cabinet on the negotiations he had conducted at Washington for settlement of the debt question.

London, Jan. 31.—The terms of settlement of the more than four billion dollar debt to the United States is as follows:

Settlement in 62 years, with interest at three per cent. for the first ten years and three and one-half per cent thereafter; one half of one per cent amortization charge at the same time being paid to provide for extinguishment of the principle.

Between the time debt was contracted in 1917 and the date of final settlement of the funding terms, Britain will be charged only four and one fourth per cent. interest instead of the five per cent specified in the note held by the government.

LEGISLATURE WILL BE CONSIDERING BILLS WITHIN WEEK

Harrisburg, Jan. 31.—The House of Representatives today passed the first bill of the session, one introduced by McVicker of Allegheny, providing for brevity in printing amendments in the session laws. The vote was unanimous. The House also passed ten bills on first reading.

The House then adjourned at 9:00 p. m. until next Monday.

Harrisburg, Jan. 31.—In the first Wednesday meeting of the 1923 Legislature the House of Representatives met here at 10:00 a. m. to speed up the work for the coming year.

Enough committee meetings will be held and other preparatory work transacted this week to get a number of bills on the floor of the House by the beginning of next week.

Eight bills were reported out by committees for first reading today, six favorably and two unfavorably.

MINE CATASTROPHE IN SILESIA

London, Jan. 31.—Two hundred fifty miners were imprisoned by an explosion of fire damp in the Heinitz mines at Beuthen, Silesia, according to a Central News dispatch from Berlin today.

Several dead have already been brought out and only slight hope for the recovery of any still alive is held out.

Miss Delia Beahan and Miss Augusta Craft who are spending some time in Pittsburgh, attended the American Legion luncheon held there.

STATE POLICE MAKE FIRST REPORT ON "DRY-UP" ACTIVITY

Harrisburg, Jan. 31.—State Police headquarters here today issued the first communique reporting yesterday's results in the bootlegging drive ordered by Governor Pinchot.

According to this report yesterday's activities alone accounted for thirty-two arrests, including bootleggers, moonshiners, brewers, hotel keepers, saloon keepers and brewing company officials.

Among the items confiscated were one touring car, two trucks, 212 cases of beer, 71 gallons of moonshine, 41 barrels of beer, 14 barrels of mash, four stills, 50 gallons of mash and three quarts of whiskey.

Curwensville Couple Alleged To Have Sold Liquor To Officials

County Detective Snyder and Constable Sundelin of the Fourth Ward visited Curwensville yesterday and swooped down on the home of Ben Rubin, where it was alleged one of the officers was able to purchase a pint of stuff containing more than the one half of one per cent of alcohol allowed in beverages under Andy Volstead's law and the Woner Act.

Following the alleged sale an information was made before Justice of the Peace John A. Dale and warrants issued for the arrest of both Mr. and Mrs. Rubin. The couple were later arrested and brought to jail last evening in default of bail.

CATCH MEN WHO STOLE PAYROLL FROM THE ARMY

Norfolk, Jan. 31.—Corporal S. Wood, aged twenty-seven and James Harvey aged twenty-four are held by army authorities at Langley Field on a charge of theft of the Post's $42,000 pay roll and kidnapping the five army men who had it in charge.

The capture was effected Tuesday night, ten hours after the hold-up took place. The men were captured single handed by Robert Dewey of New York City, a visitor at Langley Field, who was deputized by a magistrate.

Dope Finds Way Into Chicago Schools; Youth Shoots Self As Result

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Drastic steps will be taken to end the liquor and drug traffic among high school pupils, following closely the disclosures by George Ross, aged 18, who is near death from self-inflicted wounds. Ross shot himself after a vain effort to throw off the drug habit. He was a student at Lane Technical High School. Ross stated he got drugs from a peddler, who has become wealthy in drug traffic.

The Ross tragedy follows closely an investigation into a drug concern, which, according to police, sold drugs and liquor to students staging hilarious parties.

Mark Plank and Abe Adelman, popular merchants of Philadelphia, transacted business here on Tuesday.

NEW BILL IN LEGISLATURE WOULD PUT COUNTY TREASURER ON SALARY BASIS

LEGISLATORS FIND WAY TO CUT BILLS FOR OWN PRINTING

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—The House today adopted a recommendation of the committee on rules that amendatory bills introduced shall not recite the entire act, but merely the specific section to be amended. The part to be eliminated is to be contained within brackets, while the section replacing it is to be underscored.

Speaking in support of the new rule, Mr. McVicker, chairman of the committee, explained the measure had been recommended by the legislative reference bureau, endorsed by the attorney general and approved by the governor. He said it would make for economy in saving approximately $40,000 in printing bills, reducing the size of the pamphlet book laws by about one-fifth, and for clarity in making the meaning of such legislation more easily understood.

A bill directing that session law shall be printed in similar fashion was introduced by Mr. McVicker, earlier in the session and has passed second readings.

Mr. Schleiter, Beaver, presented resolutions adopted at the annual convention of township supervisors calling upon the legislature to make sufficient appropriations to provide both for township aid road project already authorized, and also to insure continuance of the program during 1923. The resolution was referred to the committee on appropriations.

The House adjourned until 10 a. m. Wednesday.

L. C. NORRIS LAYS THE PENFIELD ROUTE BEFORE MR. WRIGHT

Harrisburg, Jan. 31.—Mr. L. C. Norris, of Clearfield, saw Highway Commissioner Paul D. Wright, Monday relative to state aid for proposal which cut distances on the road leading north from Clearfield to Penfield. He told Mr. Wright that to improve this thoroughfare would be greatly to lessen the distance from Centre Pennsylvania points to the Emporium and Johnsonburg regions. The department has taken this proposition under advisement.

BETHLEHEM STEEL INAUGURATES AN EMPLOYEE PENSION

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—A pension system to Bethlehem Steel Company employees, effective since January 1st was announced here by President Eugene Grace.

Under the plan pensions will be granted sixty-five year old employees after twenty-five year's service and to employees incapacitated in the company's employ.

EASTER, APRIL FIRST

Easter Sunday this year falls on the first day of April, somewhat earlier than usual. The earliest day it may come is on March 25th. Lent begins on February 14th.

WILLIAM H. ALBRIGHT, SIRE OF THIS COUNTY'S LARGEST FAMILY, DIES AT AGE OF 78, IN WOODWARD TOWNSHIP

William H. Albright, a well known Boggs township resident, died at the home of one of his daughters in Woodward township, near Henderson, yesterday morning as the result of a stroke of paralysis.

Another Would Cut The Com- missions Of Both The Town- ship Tax Collector And The Treasurer.

CLEARFIELD IS AFFECTED

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—Recognizing the importance of three bills in the House referred to the committee on counties and townships, Samuel McCurdy, Blair county, chairman, appointed sub-committees to get additional information about the effect of the measures if finally approved and the need for them throughout the state.

One of these bills, offered by Representative George L. Woner, Butler county, provides a fixed salary of $3,500 a year for treasurer of counties of the sixth class, instead of fees and commissions heretofore allowed, and another by Mr. Woner reduces fees to the township treasurers and tax collectors from five to three per cent. The third measure, presented by Representative Timothy C. Kunkin, would fix the salary of township fifth class counties at $5,000 a year, in lieu of fees and commissions.

The fifth class treasury measure is now in the hands of a sub-committee of the counties and townships group of the House, on which Chairman McCurdy named Patrick Connor, Philadelphia; Jacob M. Flinchbaugh, York; and James T. Hoffman, Washington. The sub-committee on the sixth class treasurer bill is Harry E. Himes, Armstrong; Charles F. Biddle, Lycoming; and Brooks Hasket, Venango. The township commission bill is now in the hands of a sub-committee including Hasket, Venango; C. J. McBride, Allegheny; and George T. Walker, of Washington.

The sub-committee got busy last night before the opening of the House session and questioned a number of representatives from counties which would be affected by the fixed salary or the treasurer. In practically every instance, they said, there was little if any objection to the proposed bills, but it may be decided to have hearings on them before the committee reaches any decision about reporting them out. Mr. Biddle spoke in his county there was no objection raised, but it is said that in another one the fee amounted to about $17,000 one year and there may be some opposition.

The fifth class counties which would be affected by the VanAllen bill include Beaver, Blair, Chester, Clearfield, Lehigh, Northampton and York. The sixth class includes Armstrong, Bradford, Bucks, Butler, Carbon, Crawford, Cumberland, Franklin, Indiana, Jefferson, Lawrence, Lebanon, Lycoming, Mercer, Somerset and Venango.

Each one of the three bills provides that the change is not to affect any present holders of the respective offices mentioned.

SEVEN INJURED IN CAR WRECK

Elizabethtown, Jan. 31.—Seven persons were injured two perhaps seriously when an empty car bumped into one carrying passengers in the morning haze at Moses Creek at Linden near here early today.

The first car of the train carrying passengers was derailed.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Dr. J. Carrier, of Grampian, spent the greater part of yesterday in Curwensville transacting business.

William Condo, the Centre county horse and mule supply dealer, spent Monday in this neighborhood.

A new coal company was organized in Curwensville Monday afternoon. A large majority of the officers and stockholders are local men, who have taken over a large tract of coal land up the river and will operate the same this year. Full details of this new organization and enterprise will be given in Progress letter within the next few days.

We have been asked a number of times the whereabouts of Eugene Patton, son of F. G. Patton. He is located at Anxox, British Columbia, and is chief engineer for the Grandy Copper Company, and is making a name in the world.

The Alumni Association of the Patton High School held a meeting last evening, the purpose being for the arranging a program of athletics to be carried out during the summer and fall. The question of maintaining a winning football team was thoroughly gone over, and it was finally decided that the alumni would sponsor such a movement and lend every individual effort to maintain the high and creditable standard of football in Curwensville. The writer was unable to be present, but has enlisted the assistance of a reporter who will give us a full report for Thursday's issue.

The Chas. Eastburn stone quarry that has been doing business a short distance from town for almost a year, finished cutting all orders for stone and closed down for the winter yesterday. This operation has been a good financial feeder to Curwensville, and the business interests will soon feel the effect of the shut down. Cutters were paid at the rate of 85 cents per hour, quarrymen, engine drivers and drillers in like proportion. About 75 men were employed, and the monthly pay of this crew was spent principally right here in Curwensville.

Mrs. Mary E. Haag, an aged lady residing at Arnoldtown, is very ill, suffering from an attack of poisoning.

How to Stamp Out Poultry Parasite.

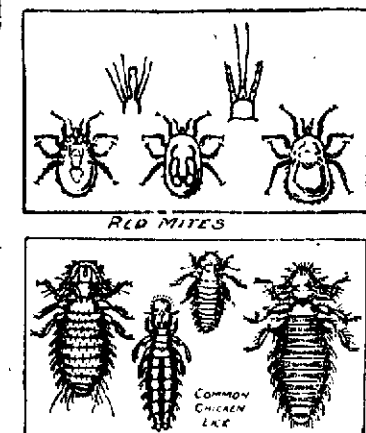

Powders, Liquids and Fumes are Employed in Exterminating Mites and Insects.

By SETH W. SHOEMAKER
Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

No animal of benefit to mankind seems to be free from pests of some sort or other that constantly tend to reduce its usefulness.

Domestic poultry seem to have their full share of such pests and a considerable number of these are insect pests, most of which are lice and mites.

The lice attacking chickens and staying on the body continually are very small and may be killed by dust. Red mites on the other hand are usually found on the chickens at night only when they are on the roost, and hide in the cracks and crevices of the house during the daytime. They prick the skin and suck the blood from the body of the fowl and also leave an irritation on the surface of the skin.

There are three general classes of insecticides that are reliable to kill poultry parasites. They are powders, liquids and fumes. The powder has to be dusted on the bodies of the parasites so that the fine particles will be drawn into the breathing tubes of the insects which will become clogged; the insects then will die of suffocation.

The liquids will kill because they are corrosive or because they get into the breathing tubes and suffocate the insects and the fumes kill because they suffocate.

Avoid Poisonous Powders
Insect powders, as a class, are not poisonous but are merely fine powders that are used to suffocate the insects. Insecticides containing arsenic, such of some kind. She is a sister of the late Jas. C. Bloom.

The funeral of the Wise child was held yesterday afternoon, Rev. B. H. Conly, of the Presbyterian church, officiating.

as Paris green or other highly poisonous matter, should not be used about poultry buildings as they are dangerous to the fowls and sometimes to the attendant.

The only reliable test of efficiency of any insect powder lies in the results obtained from its use. If, when it is applied, the parasites contract or die, as if paralyzed the powder is good, but, if the powder does not act and destroy at once it is of very little value. The following kinds of powder insecticides may be safely used on a poultry of all kinds:

Aniseed powder or Pyrethrum powder, sometimes called Persian or Dalmatian Insect Powder, or tobacco dust. Staves are seed powder, dry, in late time and road dust.

Liquids Effective Indoors

The liquid insecticides are more effective if applied to the interior of poultry buildings than powder insecticides for the reason that they can be sprayed into all the cracks and crevices. When thoroughly applied a good liquid insecticide will rid a house of practically all the parasites that are in it, and of course the house must be thoroughly cleaned before this is applied so that it will be able to penetrate. When liquid insecticides of any kind are used either as a spray or upon the poultry, they should be allowed to soak into the wood and allowed to dry thoroughly before the fowls are allowed to go inside again.

The principal liquid insecticide is Creosote, known in some localities as Creosote stain; fowls should not be allowed to enter a building sprayed with Creosote until after the material has had time to dry and the fumes to pass away. This will ordinarily be from three to four hours.

Other liquid insecticides are crude petroleum, kerosene, benzine, gasoline, turpentine, kolin and carbolic acid used at the rate of one and a half ounces to one gallon of water. Fume insecticides include sulphur fumes, tobacco fumes and creosote fumes.

America Stands Between Refugees and Death While Greece Adjusts Herself to Post-War Conditions

Whatever the ultimate decision may be as to the settlement of the questions arising from the recent conflict between Greece and Turkey, for the present at least American charity organized by the American Red Cross is the sole hope of the more than a million refugees in Greece. These people have been driven from their homes by the Greek Government. Wave after wave of homeless women, children and the aged have been driven from their homes by the Greek Government. Wave after wave of homeless women, children and the aged have been driven from their homes by the Greek Government. Wave after wave of homeless women, children and the aged have been driven from their homes by the Greek Government.

Now Dr. Hill is about to return to America and resume his regular duties and Judge John Barton, chairman of the American Red Cross, has borrowed Col. William A. Haskell from the American Relief Administration to direct the work in Greece. Col. Haskell's services in Russia during the famine period are well known, and he has had first-hand experience in relief work. He is now in charge of an American mission in Athens. Col. Haskell's first duty will be to organize a mobile unit, capable of moving where it is needed, and the medical men will coordinate and expand the work of camp sanitation, the establishing of mobile hospitals for epidemics, open ambulances, and furnish further aid to the infants and sick. The need for the latter phase of the work is keen, as the hardships of the flight and lack of living quarters and of proper sanitary arrangements have developed a distinct menace from epidemics and other diseases.

Distribution of American milk has been the only salvation for huge numbers of children, while food of other sorts bought by the Red Cross and distributed under its supervision in kitchens operated by Greek agencies has meant life to adults.

America, Colonel Haskell explained just before sailing for his new field of operations, is not bound to a continuing responsibility to care for the refugees, but will carry on while the permanent solution of the problem is being decided by the Greek Government.

Predictions were made in 1920, that if the people would put back the Republican party in power, business and industrial conditions would in due time manifest a big improvement. These conditions have been fulfilled to the letter.

These are times of greater political independence than formerly. The Republicans all know that their party is far from being perfect. They can see its errors, and do not hesitate to point them out frequently. But they do feel that the public should realize that in its main lines the Republican party does fulfill its pledges and that it gives the country better government than it could get from its opponents.

Somewhat or other the business world feels greater confidence when the Republican party is in power. It feels that the affairs of the nation are in wiser hands. It believes that as the problems of the time come up for solution, the men whom the Republican party naturally places in power will bring forward sensible solutions for these questions.

So when a Republican administration gets into power, business men begin to plan for expansion. They feel that conditions are going to be put on a sounder basis, and that it is safe for enterprising people to go ahead and take some business risks.

On the contrary, if a Democratic administration gets into power, a chill is thrown over the enterprise of the country. Business men are fearful that radical and foolish experiments will be tried out, and the natural tendency is to go slow and see what will happen. This spirit of caution leads to a general cutting down of employment and business volume. So it almost always happens, when a Democratic administration gains power, that before long a big wave of unemployment sweeps across the country and causes infinite distress.

Our First Twenty-five Years Control of Tropical Islands

By G. P. Austin, Stationer
THE NATIONAL CITY BANK OF NEW YORK

(From the WEEKLY TRADE RECORD issued by The National City Bank)

Trade of the United States with its insular possessions in the first quarter century of our occupation totals about 5 1/2 billion dollars against a little more than one-half billion in the 25 years preceding our occupation. It was on July 7, 1898 that the United States Congress adopted the resolution annexing the Hawaiian Islands in accordance with the expressed wishes of their people; on August 12 of the same year the protocol providing for the cession of Porto Rico to the United States was signed; and on December 10 of that year was signed the treaty with Spain ceding the Philippines to the United States. Guam, formerly a Spanish island was also occupied by the United States in the same year, while the tiny Samoan island, Tutuila, with the best harbor in all the South Pacific, passed completely under our control in 1899 after several years in which we had operated with certain other countries in the control of the Samoan group. Thus the year 1923 marks distinctly our first quarter century of control of these tropical islands with a population of about 12 millions. The record of our trade with these islands in the 25 years since occupation is in marked contrast with that of the quarter century prior to our control while their total trade is also several times as much since our occupation as that of the preceding 25 years. Our total purchases of their products in the past 25 years has been $3,360,000,000 against $402,000,000 in the 25 years preceding our occupation, and our sales to them have been $1,340,000,000 against $134,000,000 in the 25 years prior to our occupation. Of course, our purchases from them were more than they took of our products, for in the islands there are only 12 million people to feed and clothe while we have a population of 108 millions, all wanting tropical products. The United States supplies a very large proportion of the imports of all these islands, 65% of those of the Philippines and over 90% of those of Porto Rico and Hawaii. We take about 60% of the exports of the Philippines, 90% of those of Porto Rico and 95% of those of the Hawaiian group. Sugar, tobacco and Manila hemp are our chief imports from the Philippines, sugar and pineapples from Hawaii, and sugar, tobacco and tropical fruits from Porto Rico. To all of the islands we export manufactures of every sort and also limited quantities of food, especially flour and meats.

MILK IS

HEALTHFUL

No one can gainsay this. But the thing that you must look out for is the matter of getting the purest milk you can find. Ordinarily, milk is one of the greatest carriers of disease germs that is known, but when it is put through the pasteurization process, it is cleared of everything injurious and you get only the body-building ingredients that you are looking for.

The milk that we put on your table is as pure as the driven snow and you'll find that if you will drink more of it, you will feel better in every way.

VIRGINIA
HOCOLATE SHOPODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Governor Gifford Pinchot does not agree with President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University in his view of the difficulties surrounding the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. Governor Pinchot not only believes enforcement is workable but he is going to make it "work" at least in the state of Pennsylvania the coming four years, and is already at it.

Governor Pinchot is thoroughly convinced that it will be possible to clean up violation of the prohibition laws in Philadelphia. He has turned the entire state police force to work as enforcement officers and large quantities of liquor and illegal beer are being seized in trucks and railroad cars.

Asked as to what he thought of the statement of President Butler, made before the Ohio State Bar Association, Governor Pinchot said:

"As to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's statement, what I think is not fit to print."

Dr. Butler had declared that the Eighteenth Amendment cannot be enforced "no matter at what expenditure of money or effort."

Railroad workers of the country average 55 cents per hour in wages, according to government figures. Freight and passenger rates continue a mile high regardless.

The Rev. Richard Allen Hatch bids fair to have quite a bunch of stuff to offer the February Grand Jury when he appears before it next Monday.

Army experts since the war have produced a new bullet for rifles and machine guns which is expected to add enormously to the effectiveness of these weapons.

The new bullet is known as the "boat-tail" because of a 6-degree taper at the tail. Exhaustive tests show the change in the shape has given wings to the bullets, adding 1,400 yards to the maximum range and flattening the trajectory, or arc of flight, at 1,000 yards, approximately 20 per cent.

In addition army experts have worked out a new jacket that virtually eliminates fouling of gun barrels. It is 90 per cent. copper and 10 per cent. zinc, and it leaves ridging clear of clogging metal and will increase the accuracy and life of rifles and machine guns.

It also will permit accuracy of fire with small arms to be as great in actual combat as in peacetime target work.

Tests have fixed the maximum range of the new bullet at 4,800 yards as compared to 3,450 yards with the present ammunition.

At 600 yards, with the new ammunition, it is possible to put every shot into a circle the size of a teacup. For the "boat tail" bullet is less subject to wind deflection.

With present ammunition, firing at 1,000 yards, the bullet reaches an elevation of 182 inches at the top of its arc. With the new bullet the maximum rise is 132 inches. This means there is a space of 150 yards where no man on his feet would be safe facing the new bullet, while with present ammunition that space is 100 yards.

Tests showed the new bullets could be fired at 1,000 yards into a six-inch bull's-eye. This compares to accuracy of the old ammunition at about 500 yards.

Heat Injurious to Books.

It is undeniably true that the dry heat which we use in our American homes is injurious to furniture, books and pictures. This, of course, can be avoided by forcing damp air into the room by using pans of water and centered on the radiator. But no matter how dampened, a direct draft of heat will play havoc with furnishings and the householder should avoid it.

TRIBUTE TO THE LEGION MEN

New Orleans Times-Picayune Praises Conduct of Visitors During the National Convention.

New Orleans is proud and glad to have had the opportunity to entertain the American Legion national convention and heartily congratulates San Francisco upon its capture of the honor for 1923, according to an editorial in the Times-Picayune, a leading New Orleans newspaper, printed several days after the departure of the Legionnaires.

"The Legionnaires as a body earned the good opinions even of those few Orleansmen who because of rumors of misbehavior at Kansas City were slightly prejudiced against the gathering," the editorial states. "Throughout American Legion week good humor and good order prevailed. The rare instances of minor rowdiness, or ruffianism served only as exceptions going to prove the general rule of splendid behavior—and of these exceptions some, perhaps the majority, were chargeable to local hoodlums who took advantage of the Legion festivities to misbehave in the hope that their offenses would be charged to the visitors' account. In so large an assembly some impostors, crooks and scoundrels are almost inevitably found but the careful work of the Legion officials and the local police simply restricted the activities of those unfortunates."

"Of harmless high jinks there was, of course, a joyous abundance. New Orleans, with its carnival traditions, shared in the fun of it all and rejoiced in the hilarity which testified that the ends of the Legion were having a good time. Of wanton offense and of malicious mischief, American Legion week was remarkably free. The wish expressed by the Times-Picayune last Saturday morning—that the Legionnaires would carry to their homes recollections of the convention as pleasant as those they leave with us—came straight from the heart."

In a previous editorial the Times-Picayune stated:

"The American Legion convention closed yesterday afternoon will be long and pleasantly remembered by New Orleans. Accustomed as this city is to great conventions and impressive parades, the Legion assembly and the inspiring review staged last Wednesday made a distinctive appeal, an impression of sturdy Americanism and militant patriotism not soon to be effaced, and wholly favorable."

And another editorial in the same newspaper reads:

"Their visit to us will lead, as we hope, to the return of many of these stalwart young Americans, to live and grow with us."

HEAD OF LEGION AUXILIARY

Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, Virginia Woman, Originator of Idea for World Peace Body.

Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, newly elected president of the American Legion auxiliary, was one of five women sent from the United States to the signing of the Treaty of Versailles.

While she was in Paris, Dr. Barrett developed the idea of an international organization of women, relatives of ex-servicemen.

Dr. Barrett works for world peace. The outgrowth of this conception is a proposal to form an auxiliary to the International Veterans' association, which was received enthusiastically by association delegates at their recent meeting in New Orleans. The international auxiliary is expected to be formed at the same time as the next Legion and auxiliary convention.

Doctor Barrett lives in Alexandria, Va., and has served as president of the auxiliary in that state. Her ancestors came to Virginia with Capt. John Smith. Doctor Barrett is serving her fourth term as state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution and was president of the first club or organization in Virginia whose members were the mothers and wives of soldiers. This club later became the auxiliary unit of the Alexandria Legion post.

Maj. Charles Barrett, U. S. M. C., her son, was chief of staff to General Neville at Coblenz and was afterwards sent to make a survey and relief map of Chateau Thierry and Belleau Woods. This map, which is pronounced to be one of the finest works of its kind in existence, is a permanent exhibit in the rotunda of the National museum in Washington.

Dress Hints for Women With Limited Incomes

By HEDDA HOYT

Fashion Editor of The United Press
(Written for the United Press)

New York, N. Y., Jan. 30.—U. P.—The woman who keeps herself smartly attired on a limited income is the real genius of the age.

Anyone can go into a shop with $150 and come out with an exclusive looking frock or suit, but the woman who manages to look attractive on thirty or forty dollars is the real genius.

It isn't always the expensively gownned woman who commands attention. Often the girl in a home-made copy of expensive gowns, worn with an inexpensively concocted hat, attracts more attention than her mint-garbed competitors.

The girl who chases from store to store in search of bargains; who reaches up her medium priced gown with hand embroidery or brocade; who buys flowers on the side-streets to transform a five dollar hat into one which would sell in the shops for twenty; who manages to keep in correct taste for all occasions on a small income, is to my mind the most interesting persons in the fashion world today.

Whenever a new style comes into vogue she hops onto it immediately. If skirts are to be longer, down go her hems. We seldom see her type in the divorce court, complaining of wandering husbands, for the man whose wife keeps herself lovely and attractive without running him in debt, is held with bonds stronger than laws.

Spring Offers Chances

This Spring offers great possibilities to the woman of talent in the way of color. Hats, suits and gowns are all showing splashes of color ranging from the pastel shades to vivid greens and reds. Suits are brightened up with Paisley and brocade details. Hats are favoring dainty colored posies rather than costly feathers. Any woman can bedeck herself in colors that are becoming to her at little cost.

Printed materials are sponsored by many of the French gownmakers for the exclusive Spring costume. Fortunately for the woman of small means, the cloth manufacturers have simply loaded the shops with materials of this sort and the home dress-maker has a selection of colored prints equal to Paquins.

Spring styles are simple. We'll begin with the jacket suit, which is to be the smart thing for all occasions. Jackets this year are simple straight-lined affairs, reaching to the fingertips. They make no attempt to being tailored. Many of them use the simple side-front closing, being tied with a large ribbon bow, thus dismissing the buttonhole question. With a pattern anyone who is familiar with sewing can easily make one.

Contrasting Material

Their smartness depends upon the materials used for them. To insure the greatest success I would suggest that one use contrasting materials for skirt and jacket. Thus, with the stable blue Poirat twill skirt, one may use a jacket of Paisley print or one with Persian colors print or embroidered upon a background of blue of the same shade as the skirt. A wide blue satin bow may be used to fasten the jacket at the left side. This will make a suit that is dressy and practical.

For sports' wear, the same idea may be carried out, using contrasting colors of flannel for coat and skirt. Rose and white make a pretty combination. Printed linens, chintz and shadowed cretonnes form the jackets of some of the smartest Palm Beach costumes and their popularity will be carried throughout the Summer months. The jacket of printed cotton cloth is replacing the sweater for resort wear.

place, and John Morris, battering down a door, gathered Charles and May in his arms and carried them to the open air. Both were frightfully burned. He then went back and got Miss Litinger, but she died soon afterward.

Meantime an older daughter smashed the glass in a window of the bedroom and after trying to save Vernon and Edgar, who had been overcome by the smoke, jumped to the ground and escaped with slight injuries. When Morris and the other neighbors reached the bed room the boys were dead.

BRIDGE AND FIVE HUNDRED PARTY

The Ladies' Auxiliary to John Shade Post of the American Legion will hold a bridge and five hundred party at the Legion rooms in the County National Bank building on Thursday evening, February 1st. Everybody cordially invited.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered the railroads of the country to issue non-transferable, interchangeable checks in the denomination of $50.00 to be sold at a reduction of 20 per cent from the face value of the ticket.

Such tickets are strongly urged by the commercial travelers and Congress recently passed a bill authorizing same.

Sorry She Spoke

While going to visit my girl friend's home, to which I had never been, I had a strange experience. She came to the car to meet me and the first house we came to I said: "For heaven's sake, who lives in this little barn?" She led me into the house. It was her home.—Exchange.

mendous growth of membership.

At an informal meeting held by number of mining men at Philipsburg on the 20th inst., it was decided to send out an invitation to every operator in the region to attend a meeting to be held on the third floor of the Moshannon National Bank Building, Philipsburg, Pa., on Saturday, February 3rd, at 3:00 p. m., at which time, if there is sufficient interest shown, a permanent organization will be effected.

We believe that you are vitally interested in this matter and we, therefore, urge you to be present at this meeting, delegate someone to represent you, or, advise us in writing as to your sentiments. This invitation is also extended to your superintendents, foremen and any other of your employees whom you think will be interested in the project, and we are counting on your support and co-operation in this movement.

Owing to the great number of men whom this institute will serve and the difficulty of reaching them all by letter, it is no doubt true that some who may be interested and desire to attend this meeting have been overlooked. This invitation is, therefore, intended to be general and any persons interested in such an organization are urged to attend this meeting.

HER TEMPORARY HUSBAND

With a cast of players that is one of those perfect things that is a joy to see and hear "Her Temporary Husband", Edward A. Paulton's skillful farce will be the attraction at the Driggs theatre tonight.

This play comes from a long engagement at the Frazee Theatre, New York, with William Courtenay and the balance of the metropolitan company intact including Virginia Hammond, George Parsons, Henry Hamner, Jack Paulton and Betty Tunley.

Couldn't Fool Johnny
A school teacher from a distant town was trying to fool her husband by saying she was a nun. He was a very clever fellow and he was not fooled. He was a very clever fellow and he was not fooled.

"Hurricane's Gal" will be shown at the Driggs Thursday. It's a great picture of a woman with a wild heart.

DRAMATIC ORGANIZATION MEETS

The nucleus of the community dramatic group met in the High School last evening to discuss the possible ways in which such an organization could serve the town. It was decided to form committees on the various phases of town dramatic work—church, school, festival and pageant and legitimate drama. Story telling which is also under this group, functioned all last summer on the playgrounds. Collecting as many as could be interested under their particular heads, all will meet again Monday evening, Feb. 5th at the same place and time—the High School at eight. No one is begged to do this—it is simply a development in co-operation and mutual assistance quite usual in Community Service towns and quantities of others. With these committees acting on their particular work, any group in town wishing help from one or another would be at liberty to go to them for the exact material and advice to fit the specific case.

"Hurricane's Gal" will be shown at the Driggs Thursday. It's a great picture. Orchestra with special music.

Florida Has Longest Coast.

Florida has the longest coast line of any state—almost twelve hundred miles—more than half the distance between Chicago and San Francisco. California is second in this respect, with over one thousand miles of coast line. Some authorities are inclined to give the preference to California, there being so little difference between the coast lines of the two states.

Mythological Unicorn.

In mythology the unicorn was a ferocious monster with the body of a horse, the head of a deer, the feet of an elephant, the tail of a boar, and a single black horn, two cubits long in the middle of its forehead. Hunters found it impossible to catch the beast until they found out it was a great lover of purity. They secured a virgin to lure it.

Two Colors

The newest dresses for small girls are made of two colors. Usually two colors in the same material, but sometimes two materials as well. Trimmings are varied and include wool embroidery, ribbons and inserts of lace and fabric. But the important thing to remember is that the dress is made of two colors, no matter how simple otherwise it may be.

The Calm of the Mosques.

Where, in the open spaces of Stambul, or outside the gates, or up by the Mosque of Eyoub, men sit at little tables before cafes, under a wide tree, the conversation is calm. In the mosque, the imam preaching is equally calm. He sits easily, and the congregation sits in widening semicircle around, and he addresses them with serene assurance, persuasive, quieting, convincing. Three such conferences have been observed in the Mosque of Suleiman, without mutual disturbance. The speaker seems to count on a reasonable audience and to speak out of a confirmed knowledge.

Pioneer Apothecaries.

Pharmacy and medicine were first made separate professions by the monks and priests of the Tenth and Eleventh centuries. The father of the apothecaries seems to have been Constantine Afer of Carthage. Their preparations and potions were sold to the rich and given to the poor. No apothecaries are mentioned in France prior to 1484.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Edward Arthur Rafferty post No. 682.

Let these few words express our congratulations for the supper you gave to the public on Saturday evening, Jan. 27. It is a mystery to the community how such an elaborate feast could be given at such a low price. It certainly shows in what regard the ladies are held in this community by the way the public helped in making this affair an overwhelming success.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens
So Naturally Nobody
Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and tells us again today to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite desirable, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the sunny rainwater at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

GREAT BRITAIN ACCEPTS U. S. TERMS ON DEBT STATE OF SIEGE PROCLAIMED IN RUHR CITIES

Paris, Jan. 31.—The French government has prepared and will notify the Germans of a new series of more drastic measures that are to be applied immediately in the occupied areas and a note also informs the Cuno government that a second and far more severe penalty will be inflicted unless resistance to French occupation ceases.

Essen, Jan. 31.—An indefinite state of siege was proclaimed today in all Ruhr cities occupied by the French and Belgians, now under a single command.

Coal is chocking pits and smothering possibilities of further production. Unless it is moved soon, mining will have to cease. The French and Germans ceased to clash although the French are putting forth every effort to use troops to run trains and operate signal poles. German rail workers quit, which resulted with a prompt strike. Railmen of the Mayence district proclaimed a walkout this morning.

William H. Connell Is Successor To Biles As Asst. Highway Chief

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—William H. Connell, of Philadelphia, was today appointed Deputy State Highway Commissioner by Paul D. Wright, head of the Highway Department. Mr. Connell will be the engineering executive of the Highway Department. Until March 1, Mr. Connell will temporarily occupy the post of chief engineer, the resignation of George H. Biles, the present Assistant Commissioner, becomes effective March 1. Mr. Biles also is a Philadelphian.

In announcing the appointment of Mr. Connell, Mr. Wright said: "I have appointed William H. Connell, of Philadelphia, as Assistant Highway Commissioner, to act as engineering executive of the department, to be effective March 1."

Mr. Connell is arranging his business affairs so that he may come to Harrisburg. He will receive a salary of $12,000 a year.

When organization members of the House and Senate, incensed at the displacement of Biles, sought to make political capital of the fact that no specific reason was assigned for his resignation, Commissioner Wright said: "Mr. Biles' resignation should not be construed as implying any reflection on his integrity or ability. After carefully looking over the field, including Mr. Biles, it was decided that Mr. Connell was, on the whole, best fitted for the place, under plans which the department has for future highway work."

Well Qualified for Post.

That statement silenced the tongues of men who asserted the administration had no real reason for dismissing Biles, except the desire to further punish the organization. From sources close to the Governor and to Commissioner Wright, it was said today they were influenced in their decision for Mr. Connell by the opinion that no man in Pennsylvania could better fill the post, where not only executive ability of a high order, technical skill, but courageous initiative are necessary.

Mr. Connell is well known as an engineer and has an international reputation as a highway engineer. For many years prior to 1912 he was in charge of public engineering work in New York and in the latter part of 1910 he constructed the White Plains experimental roadway.

TURKEY GAINS BIG FOURTH VICTIM OF ADVANTAGE THRU FRANCE'S ACTION FIRE AT COUPON DIED YESTERDAY

London, Jan. 31.—Great Britain's delegation to the Lausanne conference was forced today to withdraw its ultimatum to the Turks and agreed to stay final proceedings until Sunday evening.

Marquis Curzon, spokesman of the Allies granted a delay of four days after Ismet Pasha had declined to give a definite answer and had asked a fortnight postponement.

London, Jan. 31.—Ismet Pasha, head of Turkey's delegation to Lausanne, today took advantage of a new rift in the entente to ignore Great Britain's ultimatum and asked for some time to consider the treaty submitted by the Allies.

The surprise move of France which indicated to the Ankara government that the date last set by Marquis Curzon for Turkey's reply need not be considered final so far as the French were concerned gave the Ottoman delegate a loophole whereby to avoid a flat answer to the English.

This fresh difference between France and Great Britain, which followed the break over reparation and the Ruhr occupation, heartened the Turks and they asked that the Lausanne conference meet again next week.

Meanwhile Ismet Pasha said he hoped that everyone would do their utmost to keep the peace.

MINING INSTITUTE UNDER ORGANIZATION PROCESS; FIRST MEETING HELD JAN. 20th.

There has been a movement launched among the mining men of this region looking toward the establishment of a Coal Mining Institute for the purpose of having all mining men embraced within the territory bounded by Grampian, Snow Shoe, Janesville and McCartney, meet at least once annually for the purpose of discussing the problems encountered in mining and disseminating information relating thereto. With this in view, the following invitation has been sent out to the operators and other interested men in the district:

Little May Litzinger Dies of Burns Received When Mother and Two Other Children Died.

MOTHER HEROIC

Altoona, Jan. 29.—May Litzinger, aged six, died in the Altoona hospital this morning, the fourth member of the Litzinger family to lose her life as the result of a fire which destroyed their home at Coupon, Little Mountain town, late Saturday night. The other victims were: Mrs. Rose Litzinger, her sons Vernon, aged 13 and Edgar, aged 8, Charles, aged 10, who was badly injured that it was feared he would die.

Coupon is a little mining town in the mountains west of here, and the story of how Mrs. Litzinger gave up her life while trying to save her family did not reach here until today.

The woman and her four children retired early Saturday night and some time later Mrs. Litzinger was awakened by the crackling of flames. She went to the door leading from the stairway to the kitchen and opening it was met by a wall of flame and smoke. Returning to the bedroom, she caught up Charles and May, and shouting to the others to follow, dashed down the stairway again. She threw the children out into the kitchen beyond the flames, and then sank down, overcome by the smoke.

Meantime neighbors ran to the house and tried to save her.

BRITISH PREMIER OVERRULES VIEWS HELD BY BALDWIN

Washington, Jan. 31.—President Harding and Secretary of Treasury Mellon were highly pleased today at the announcement from London that Great Britain had accepted America's terms of settlement of the British war loan from this government.

The President smiled broadly when the news was brought to him.

London, Jan. 31.—Great Britain today accepted the American terms for a payment of the debt to the United States.

This decision was reached after Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, had made a report to Premier Bonar Law and his cabinet on the negotiations he had conducted at Washington for settlement of the debt question.

London, Jan. 31.—The terms of settlement of the more than four billion dollar debt to the United States is as follows:

Settlement in 62 years, with interest at three per cent. for the first ten years and three and one-half per cent thereafter; one half of one per cent amortization charge at the same time being paid to provide for extinguishment of the principle.

Between the time debt was contracted in 1917 and the date of final settlement of the funding terms, Britain will be charged only four and one fourth per cent. interest instead of the five per cent specified in the note held by the government.

LEGISLATURE WILL BE CONSIDERING BILLS WITHIN WEEK

Harrisburg, Jan. 31.—The House of Representatives today passed the first bill of the session, one introduced by McVicker of Allegheny, providing for brevity in printing amendments in the session laws. The vote was unanimous. The House also passed ten bills on first reading.

The House then adjourned at 9:00 p. m. until next Monday.

Harrisburg, Jan. 31.—In the first Wednesday meeting of the 1923 Legislature the House of Representatives met here at 10:00 a. m. to speed up the work for the coming year.

Enough committee meetings will be held and other preparatory work transacted this week to get a number of bills on the floor of the House by the beginning of next week.

Eight bills were reported out by committees for first reading today six favorably and two unfavorably.

MINE CATASTROPHE IN SILESIA

London, Jan. 31.—Two hundred fifty miners were imprisoned by an explosion of fire damp in the Heinitz mines at Beuthen, Silesia, according to a Central News dispatch from Berlin today.

Several dead have already been brot out and only slight hope for the recovery of any still alive is held out.

Miss Delia Beahan and Miss Augusta Craft who are spending some time in Pittsburgh, attended the American Legion luncheon held there.

STATE POLICE MAKE FIRST REPORT ON "DRY-UP" ACTIVITY

Harrisburg, Jan. 31.—State Police headquarters here today issued the first communique reporting yesterday's results in the bootlegging drive ordered by Governor Pinchot.

According to this report yesterday's activities alone accounted for thirty-two arrests, including bootleggers, moonshiners, brewers, hotel keepers, saloon keepers and brewing company officials.

Among the items confiscated were one touring car, two trucks, 212 cases of beer, 71 gallons of moonshine, 41 barrels of beer, 14 barrels of mash, four stills, 50 gallons of mash and three quarts of whiskey.

Curwensville Couple Alleged To Have Sold Liquor To Officials

County Detective Snyder and Constable Sundelin of the Fourth Ward visited Curwensville yesterday and swooped down on the home of Ben Rubin, where it was alleged one of the officers was able to purchase a pint of stuff containing more than the one half of one per cent of alcohol allowed in beverages under Andy Volstead's law and the Woner Act.

Following the alleged sale an information was made before Justice of the Peace John A. Dale and warrants issued for the arrest of both Mr. and Mrs. Rubin. The couple were later arrested and brought to jail last evening in default of bail.

CATCH MEN WHO STOLE PAYROLL FROM THE ARMY

Norfolk, Jan. 31.—Corporal S. Wood, aged twenty-seven and James Harvey aged twenty-four are held by army authorities at Langley Field on a charge of theft of the Post's $42,000 pay roll and kidnapping the five army men who had it in charge.

The capture was effected Tuesday night, ten hours after the hold-up took place. The men were captured single handed by Robert Dewey of New York City, a visitor at Langley Field, who was deputized by a magistrate.

Dope Finds Way Into Chicago Schools; Youth Shoots Self As Result

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Drastic steps will be taken to end the liquor and drug traffic among high school pupils, following closely the disclosures by George Ross, aged 18, who is near death from self-inflicted wounds. Ross shot himself after a vain effort to throw off the drug habit. He was a student at Lane Technical High School. Ross stated he got drugs from a peddler, who has become wealthy in drug traffic.

The Ross tragedy follows closely an investigation into a drug concern, which, according to police, sold drugs and liquor to students staging hilarious parties.

Mark Plank and Abe Adelman, popular merchants of Phillipsburg, transacted business here on Tuesday.

NEW BILL IN LEGISLATURE WOULD PUT COUNTY TREASURER ON SALARY BASIS

LEGISLATORS FIND WAY TO CUT BILLS FOR OWN PRINTING

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—The House today adopted a recommendation of the committee on rules that amendatory bills introduced shall not recite the entire act, but merely the specific section to be amended. The part to be eliminated is to be contained within brackets, while the section replacing it is to be underscored.

Speaking in support of the new rule, Mr. McVicker, chairman of the committee, explained the measure had been recommended by the legislative reference bureau, endorsed by the attorney general and approved by the governor. He said it would make for economy in saving approximately $40,000 in printing bills, reducing the size of the pamphlet book laws by about one-fifth, and for clarity in making the meaning of such legislation more easily understood.

A bill directing that session law shall be printed in similar fashion was introduced by Mr. McVicker, earlier in the session and has passed second readings.

Mr. Schleiter, Beaver, presented resolutions adopted at the annual convention of township supervisors calling upon the legislature to make sufficient appropriations to provide both for township aid road project already authorized, and also to insure continuance of the program during 1923. The resolution was referred to the committee on appropriations.

The House adjourned until 10 a. m. Wednesday.

L. C. NORRIS LAYS THE PENFIELD ROUTE BEFORE MR. WRIGHT

Harrisburg, Jan. 31.—Mr. L. C. Norris, of Clearfield, saw Highway Commissioner Paul D. Wright, Monday relative to state aid for proposal which cut distances on the road leading north from Clearfield to Penfield. He told Mr. Wright that to improve this thoroughfare would be greatly to lessen the distance from Centre Pennsylvania points to the Emporium and Johnsonburg regions. The department has taken this proposition under advisement.

BETHLEHEM STEEL INAUGURATES AN EMPLOYEE PENSION

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—A pension system to Bethlehem Steel Company employees, effective since January 1st was announced here by President Eugene Grace.

Under the plan pensions will be granted sixty-five year old employees after twenty-five year's service and to employees incapacitated in the company's employ.

EASTER, APRIL FIRST

Easter Sunday this year falls on the first day of April, somewhat earlier than usual. The earliest day it may come is on March 25th. Lent begins on February 14th.

WILLIAM H. ALBRIGHT, SIRE OF THIS COUNTY'S LARGEST FAMILY, DIES AT AGE OF 78, IN WOODWARD TOWNSHIP

William H. Albright, a well known Boggs township resident, died at the home of one of his daughters in Woodward township, near Henderson, yesterday morning as the result of a stroke of paralysis.

Another Would Cut The Com- missions Of Both The Town- ship Tax Collector And The Treasurer.

CLEARFIELD IS AFFECTED

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—Recognizing the importance of three bills in the House referred to the committee on counties and townships, Samuel McCurdy, Blair county, chairman, appointed sub-committees to get additional information about the effect of the measures if finally approved and the need for them throughout the state.

One of these bills, offered by Representative George L. Woner, Butler county, provides a fixed salary of $3,500 a year for treasurer of counties of the sixth class, instead of fees and commissions heretofore allowed, and another by Mr. Woner reduces fees to the township treasurer and tax collector from five to three per cent. The third measure, presented by Representative Timothy C. Kunkel, would fix the salary of township fifth class counties at $5,000 a year, in lieu of fees and commissions.

The fifth class treasury measure is now in the hands of a sub-committee of the counties and townships group of the House, on which Chairman McCurdy named Patrick Connor, Philadelphia; Jacob M. Flinchbaugh, York; and James T. Hoffman, Washington. The sub-committee on the sixth class treasurer bill is Harry E. Himes, Armstrong; Charles F. Biddle, Lycoming; and Brooks Hasket, Venango. The township commission bill is now in the hands of a sub-committee including Hasket, Venango; C. J. McBride, Allegheny; and George T. Walker, of Washington.

The sub-committee got busy last night before the opening of the House session and questioned a number of representatives from counties which would be affected by the fixed salary or the treasurer. In practically every instance, they said, there was little if any objection to the proposed bills, but it may be decided to have hearings on them before the committee reaches any decision about reporting them out. Mr. Biddle spoke in his county there was no objection raised, but it is said that in another one the fee amounted to about $17,000 one year and there may be some opposition.

The fifth class counties which would be affected by the VanAllen bill include Beaver, Blair, Chester, Clearfield, Lehigh, Northampton and York. The sixth class includes Armstrong, Bradford, Bucks, Butler, Carbon, Crawford, Cumberland, Franklin, Indiana, Jefferson, Lawrence, Lebanon, Lycoming, Mercer, Somerset and Venango.

Each one of the three bills provides that the change is not to affect any present holders of the respective offices mentioned.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Dr. J. Carrier, of Grampian, spent the greater part of yesterday in Curwensville transacting business.

William Condo, the Centre county horse and mule supply dealer, spent Monday in this neighborhood.

A new coal company was organized in Curwensville Monday afternoon. A large majority of the officers and stockholders are local men, who have taken over a large tract of coal land up the river and will operate the same this year. Full details of this new organization and enterprise will be given in Progress letter within the next few days.

We have been asked a number of times the whereabouts of Eugene Patton, son of F. G. Patton. He is located at Anxox, British Columbia, and is chief engineer for the Grandy Copper Company, and is making a name in the world.

The Alumni Association of the Patton High School held a meeting last evening, the purpose being for the arranging a program of athletics to be carried out during the summer and fall. The question of maintaining a winning football team was thoroughly gone over, and it was finally decided that the alumni would sponsor such a movement and lend every individual effort to maintain the high and creditable standard of football in Curwensville. The writer was unable to be present, but has enlisted the assistance of a reporter who will give us a full report for Thursday's issue.

The Chas. Eastburn stone quarry that has been doing business a short distance from town for almost a year, finished cutting all orders for stone and closed down for the winter yesterday. This operation has been a good financial feeder to Curwensville, and the business interests will soon feel the effect of the shut down. Cutters were paid at the rate of 85 cents per hour, quarrymen, engine drivers and drillers in like proportion. About 75 men were employed, and the monthly pay of this crew was spent principally right here in Curwensville.

Mrs. Mary E. Haag, an aged lady residing at Arnoldtown, is very ill, suffering from an attack of poisoning.

How to Stamp Out Poultry Parasite.

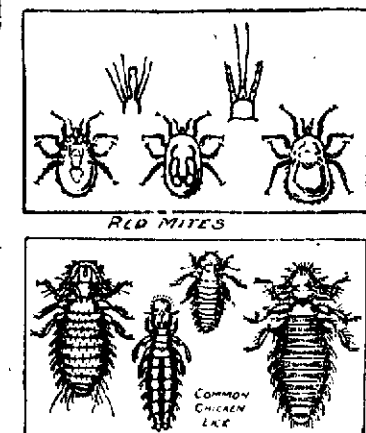

Powders, Liquids and Fumes are Employed in Exterminating Mites and Insects.

By SETH W. SHOEMAKER
Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

No animal of benefit to mankind seems to be free from pests of some sort or other that constantly tend to reduce its usefulness.

Domestic poultry seem to have their full share of such pests and a considerable number of these are insect pests, most of which are lice and mites.

The lice attacking chickens and staying on the body continually are very small and may be killed by dust. Red mites on the other hand are usually found on the chickens at night only when they are on the roost, and hide in the cracks and crevices of the house during the daytime. They prick the skin and suck the blood from the body of the fowl and also leave an irritation on the surface of the skin.

RED MITES

COMMON CHICKEN LICE

There are three general classes of insecticides that are reliable to kill poultry parasites. They are powders, liquids and fumes. The powder has to be dusted on the bodies of the parasites so that the fine particles will be drawn into the breathing tubes of the insects which will become clogged; the insects then will die of suffocation. The liquids will kill because they are corrosive or because they get into the breathing tubes and suffocate the insects and the fumes kill because they suffocate.

Avoid Poisonous Powders
Insect powders, as a class, are not poisonous but are merely fine powders that are used to suffocate the insects. Insecticides containing arsenic, such of some kind. She is a sister of the late Jas. C. Bloom.

The funeral of the Wise child was held yesterday afternoon, Rev. B. H. Conly, of the Presbyterian church, officiating.

as Paris green or other highly poisonous matter, should not be used about poultry buildings as they are dangerous to the fowls and sometimes to the attendant.

The only reliable test of efficiency of any insect powder lies in the results obtained from its use. If, when it is applied, the parasites contract or die, as if paralyzed the powder is good, but, if the powder does not act and destroy at once it is of very little value. The following kinds of powder insecticides may be safely used on a poultry of all kinds:

Aniseed powder or Pyrethrum powder, sometimes called Persian or Dalmatian Insect Powder, or tobacco dust. Staves are seed powder, dry, in late time and road dust.

Liquids Effective Indoors

The liquid insecticides are more effective if applied to the interior of poultry buildings than powder insecticides for the reason that they can be sprayed into all the cracks and crevices. When thoroughly applied a good liquid insecticide will rid a house of practically all the parasites that are in it, and of course the house must be thoroughly cleaned before this is applied so that it will be able to penetrate. When liquid insecticides of any kind are used either as a spray or upon the poultry, they should be allowed to soak into the wood and allowed to dry thoroughly before the fowls are allowed to go inside again.

The principal liquid insecticide is Creosote, known in some localities as Creosote stain; fowls should not be allowed to enter a building sprayed with Creosote until after the material has had time to dry and the fumes to pass away. This will ordinarily be from three to four hours.

Other liquid insecticides are crude petroleum, kerosene, benzine, gasoline, turpentine, kolin and carbolic acid used at the rate of one and a half ounces to one gallon of water. Fume insecticides include sulphur fumes, tobacco fumes and creosote fumes.

America Stands Between Refugees and Death While Greece Adjusts Herself to Post-War Conditions

Whatever the ultimate decision may be as to the settlement of the questions arising from the recent conflict between Greece and Turkey, for the present at least American charity organized by the American Red Cross is the sole hope of the more than a million refugees in Greece. These people have been driven from their homes by the Greek Government. Wave after wave of homeless women, children and the faintly distressed men of military age reach the shores of the many islands of the Aegean Sea, and the American Red Cross is the concern of no one but the American people. It is a vast and complex problem, the solution of which is being decided by the American Red Cross.

brought the resources of the American Red Cross to bear, more than $2,000,000 having been already spent from the disaster emergency funds, to supply American medicine, food, blankets and overcoats to the sufferers.

Now Dr. Hill is about to return to America and resume his regular duties and Judge John Barton Evans, chairman of the American Red Cross, has borrowed Col. William N. Haskell from the American Relief Administration to direct the work in Greece. Col. Haskell's services in Russia during the famine period are well known, and he has had first-hand experience in relief work. He is now head of an American mission in Athens. Col. Haskell's first job will be to organize a mobile unit, capable of moving where it is needed, and the medical men will coordinate and expand the work of camp sanitation, the establishing of mobile hospitals for epidemics, open ambulances, and furnish further aid to the infants and sick. The need for the latter phase of the work is keen, as the hardships of the flight and lack of living quarters and of proper sanitary arrangements have developed a distinct menace from epidemics and other diseases.

Distribution of American milk has been the only salvation for huge numbers of children, while food of other sorts bought by the Red Cross and distributed under its supervision in kitchens operated by Greek agencies has meant life to adults.

America, Colonel Haskell explains, just before sailing for his new field of operations, is not bound to a continuing responsibility to care for the refugees, but will carry on while the permanent solution of the problem is being decided by the Greek Government.

What They Are Thinking

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Governor Gifford Pinchot does not agree with President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University in his view of the difficulties surrounding the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. Governor Pinchot not only believes enforcement is workable but he is going to make it "work" at least in the state of Pennsylvania the coming four years, and is already at it.

Governor Pinchot is thoroughly convinced that it will be possible to clean up violation of the prohibition laws in Philadelphia. He has turned the entire state police force to work as enforcement officers and large quantities of liquor and illegal beer are being seized in trucks and railroad cars.

Asked as to what he thought of the statement of President Butler, made before the Ohio State Bar Association, Governor Pinchot said: "As to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's statement, what I think is not fit to print." Dr. Butler had declared that the Eighteenth Amendment cannot be enforced "no matter at what expenditure of money or effort."

Railroad workers of the country average 55 cents per hour in wages, according to government figures. Freight and passenger rates continue a mile high regardless.

The Rev. Richard Allen Hatch bids fair to have quite a bunch of stuff to offer the February Grand Jury when he appears before it next Monday.

Army experts since the war have produced a new bullet for rifles and machine guns which is expected to add enormously to the effectiveness of these weapons.

The new bullet is known as the "boat-tail" because of a 6-degree taper at the tail. Exhaustive tests show the change in the shape has given wings to the bullets, adding 1,400 yards to the maximum range and flattening the trajectory, or arc of flight, at 1,000 yards, approximately 20 percent.

In addition army experts have worked out a new jacket that virtually eliminates fouling of gun barrels. It is 90 per cent copper and 10 per cent zinc, and it leaves ridging clear of clogging metal and will increase the accuracy and life of rifles and machine guns.

It also will permit accuracy of fire with small arms to be as great in actual combat as in peacetime target work.

Tests have fixed the maximum range of the new bullet at 4,800 yards as compared to 3,450 yards with the present ammunition.

At 600 yards, with the new ammunition, it is possible to put every shot into a circle the size of a teacup. For the "boat tail" bullet is less subject to wind deflection.

With present ammunition, firing at 1,000 yards, the bullet reaches an elevation of 182 inches at the top of its arc. With the new bullet the maximum rise is 132 inches. This means there is a space of 150 yards where no man on his feet would be safe facing the new bullet, while with present ammunition that space is 100 yards.

Tests showed the new bullets could be fired at 1,000 yards into a six-inch bull's-eye. This compares to accuracy of the old ammunition at about 500 yards.

Heat Injurious to Books.

It is undeniably true that the dry heat which we use in our American homes is injurious to furniture, books and pictures. This, of course, can be avoided by forcing damp air into the room by using pans of water and centered on the radiator. But no matter how dampened, a direct draft of heat will play havoc with furnishings and the householder should avoid it.

THE
LEGION

(Copyright, 1921, American Press League; The American Legion News Service.)

TRIBUTE TO THE LEGION MEN

New Orleans Times-Picayune Praises Conduct of Visitors During the National Convention.

New Orleans is proud and glad to have had the opportunity to entertain the American Legion national convention and heartily congratulates San Francisco upon its capture of the honor for 1923, according to an editorial in the Times-Picayune, a leading New Orleans newspaper, printed several days after the departure of the Legionnaires.

"The Legionnaires as a body earned the good opinions even of those few Orleansmen who because of rumors of misbehavior at Kansas City were slightly prejudiced against the gathering," the editorial states. "Throughout American Legion week good humor and good order prevailed. The rare instances of minor rowdiness, or ruffianism served only as exceptions going to prove the general rule of splendid behavior—and of these exceptions some, perhaps the majority, were chargeable to local hoodlums who took advantage of the Legion festivities to misbehave in the hope that their offenses would be charged to the visitors' account. In so large an assembly some impostors, crooks and scoundrels are almost inevitably found but the careful work of the Legion officials and the local police simply restricted the activities of those unfortunates."

"Of harmless high jinks there was, of course, a joyous abundance. New Orleans, with its carnival traditions, shared in the fun of it all and rejoiced in the hilarity which testified that the ends of the Legion were having a good time. Of wanton offense and of malicious mischief, American Legion week was remarkably free. The wish expressed by the Times-Picayune last Saturday morning—that the Legionnaires would carry to their homes recollections of the convention as pleasant as those they leave with us—came straight from the heart."

In a previous editorial the Times-Picayune stated:

"The American Legion convention closed yesterday afternoon and will be long and pleasantly remembered by New Orleans. Accustomed as this city is to great conventions and impressive parades, the Legion assembly and the inspiring review staged last Wednesday made a distinctive appeal, an impression of sturdy Americanism and militant patriotism not soon to be effaced, and wholly favorable."

And another editorial in the same newspaper reads:

"Their visit to us will lead, as we hope, to the return of many of these stalwart young Americans, to live and grow with us."

HEAD OF LEGION AUXILIARY

Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, Virginia Woman, Originator of Idea for World Peace Body.

Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, newly elected president of the American Legion auxiliary, was one of five women sent from the United States to the signing of the Treaty of Versailles.

While she was in Paris, Dr. Barrett developed the idea of an international organization of women, relatives of ex-servicemen.

Dr. Barrett works for world peace. The outgrowth of this conception is a proposal to form an auxiliary to the International Veterans' association, which was received enthusiastically by association delegates at their recent meeting in New Orleans. The international auxiliary is expected to be formed at the same time as the next Legion and auxiliary convention.

Doctor Barrett lives in Alexandria, Va., and has served as president of the auxiliary in that state. Her ancestors came to Virginia with Capt. John Smith. Doctor Barrett is serving her fourth term as state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution and was president of the first club or organization in Virginia whose members were the mothers and wives of soldiers. This club later became the auxiliary unit of the Alexandria Legion post.

Maj. Charles Barrett, U. S. M. C., her son, was chief of staff to General Neville at Coblenz and was afterwards sent to make a survey and relief map of Chateau Thierry and Belleau Woods. This map, which is pronounced to be one of the finest works of its kind in existence, is a permanent exhibit in the rotunda of the National museum in Washington.

Dress Hints for Women With Limited Incomes

By HEDDA HOYT

Fashion Editor of The United Press
(Written for the United Press)

New York, N. Y., Jan. 30.—U. P.—The woman who keeps herself smartly attired on a limited income is the real genius of the age.

Anyone can go into a shop with $150 and come out with an exclusive looking frock or suit, but the woman who manages to look attractive on thirty or forty dollars is the real genius.

It isn't always the expensively gownned woman who commands attention. Often the girl in a home-made copy of expensive gowns, worn with an inexpensively concocted hat, attracts more attention than her mint-garbed competitors.

The girl who chases from store to store in search of bargains; who reaches up her medium priced gown with hand embroidery or brocade; who buys flowers on the side-streets to transform a five dollar hat into one which would sell in the shops for twenty; who manages to keep in correct taste for all occasions on a small income, is to my mind the most interesting persons in the fashion world today.

Whenever a new style comes into vogue she hops onto it immediately. If skirts are to be longer, down go her hems. We seldom see her type in the divorce court, complaining of wandering husbands, for the man whose wife keeps herself lovely and attractive without running him in debt, is held with bonds stronger than laws.

Spring Offers Chances

This Spring offers great possibilities to the woman of talent in the way of color. Hats, suits and gowns are all showing splashes of color ranging from the pastel shades to vivid greens and reds. Suits are brightened up with Paisley and brocade details. Hats are favoring dainty colored posies rather than costly feathers. Any woman can bedeck herself in colors that are becoming to her at little cost.

Printed materials are sponsored by many of the French gownmakers for the exclusive Spring costume. Fortunately for the woman of small means, the cloth manufacturers have simply loaded the shops with materials of this sort and the home dress-maker has a selection of colored prints equal to Paquins.

Spring styles are simple. We'll begin with the jacket suit, which is to be the smart thing for all occasions. Jackets this year are simple straight-lined affairs, reaching to the fingertips. They make no attempt to being tailored. Many of them use the simple side-front closing, being tied with a large ribbon bow, thus dismissing the buttonhole question. With a pattern anyone who is familiar with sewing can easily make one.

Contrasting Material

Their smartness depends upon the materials used for them. To insure the greatest success I would suggest that one use contrasting materials for skirt and jacket. Thus, with the stable blue Poirer twill skirt, one may use a jacket of Paisley print or one with Persian colors printed or embroidered upon a background of blue of the same shade as the skirt. A wide blue satin bow may be used to fasten the jacket at the left side. This will make a suit that is dressy and practical.

For sports' wear, the same idea may be carried out, using contrasting colors of flannel for coat and skirt. Rose and white make a pretty combination. Printed linens, chintz and shadowed cretonnes form the jackets of some of the smartest Palm Beach costumes and their popularity will be carried throughout the Summer months. The jacket of printed cotton cloth is replacing the sweater for resort wear.

place, and John Morris, battering down a door, gathered Charles and May in his arms and carried them to the open air. Both were frightfully burned. He then went back and got Miss Litinger, but she died soon afterward.

Meantime an older daughter smashed the glass in a window of the bedroom and after trying to save Vernon and Edgar, who had been overcome by the smoke, jumped to the ground and escaped with slight injuries. When Morris and the other neighbors reached the bed room the boys were dead.

BRIDGE AND FIVE HUNDRED PARTY

The Ladies' Auxiliary to John Shade Post of the American Legion will hold a bridge and five hundred party at the Legion rooms in the County National Bank building on Thursday evening, February 1st. Everybody cordially invited.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered the railroads of the country to issue non-transferable, interchangeable checks in the denomination of $50.00 to be sold at a reduction of 20 per cent from the face value of the ticket.

Such tickets are strongly urged by the commercial travelers and Congress recently passed a bill authorizing same.

Sorry She Spoke

While going to visit my girl friend's home, to which I had never been, I had a strange experience. She came to the car to meet me and the first house we came to I said: "For heaven's sake, who lives in this little barn?" She led me into the house. It was her home.—Exchange.

mendous growth of membership.

At an informal meeting held by number of mining men at Philipsburg on the 20th inst., it was decided to send out an invitation to every operator in the region to attend a meeting to be held on the third floor of the Moshannon National Bank Building, Philipsburg, Pa., on Saturday, February 3rd, at 3:00 p. m., at which time, if there is sufficient interest shown, a permanent organization will be effected.

We believe that you are vitally interested in this matter and we, therefore, urge you to be present at this meeting, delegate someone to represent you, or, advise us in writing as to your sentiments. This invitation is also extended to your superintendents, foremen and any other of your employees whom you think will be interested in the project, and we are counting on your support and co-operation in this movement.

Owing to the great number of men whom this institute will serve and the difficulty of reaching them all by letter, it is no doubt true that some who may be interested and desire to attend this meeting have been overlooked. This invitation is, therefore, intended to be general and any persons interested in such an organization are urged to attend this meeting.

DRAMATIC ORGANIZATION MEETS

The nucleus of the community dramatic group met in the High School last evening to discuss the possible ways in which such an organization could serve the town. It was decided to form committees on the various phases of town dramatic work—church, school, festival and pageant and legitimate drama. Story telling which is also under this group, functioned all last summer on the playgrounds. Collecting as many as could be interested under their particular heads, all will meet again Monday evening, Feb. 5th at the same place and time—the High School at eight. No one is begged to do this—it is simply a development in co-operation and mutual assistance quite usual in Community Service towns and quantities of others. With these committees acting on their particular work, any group in town wishing help from one or another would be at liberty to go to them for the exact material and advice to fit the specific case.

"Hurricane's Gal" will be shown at the Driggs Thursday. It's a great picture. Orchestra with special music.

The junior pupils of the Susquehanna College of Music gave a very enjoyable recital last evening in the auditorium of the College on Locust street.

Florida Has Longest Coast.

Florida has the longest coast line of any state—almost twelve hundred miles—more than half the distance between Chicago and San Francisco.

California is second in this respect, with over one thousand miles of coast line. Some authorities are inclined to give the preference to California, there being so little difference between the coast lines of the two states.

Mythological Unicorn.

In mythology the unicorn was a ferocious monster with the body of a horse, the head of a deer, the feet of an elephant, the tail of a boar, and a single black horn, two cubits long in the middle of its forehead. Hunters found it impossible to catch the beast until they found out it was a great lover of purity. They secured a virgin to lure it.

Two Colors

The newest dresses for small girls are made of two colors. Usually two colors in the same material, but sometimes two materials as well. Trimmings are varied and include wool embroidery, ribbons and inserts of lace and fabric. But the important thing to remember is that the dress is made of two colors, no matter how simple otherwise it may be.

The Calm of the Mosques.

Where, in the open spaces of Stambul, or outside the gates, or up by the Mosque of Eyoub, men sit at little tables before cafes, under a wide tree, the conversation is calm. In the mosque, the imam preaching is equally calm. He sits easily, and the congregation sits in widening semicircle around, and he addresses them with serene assurance, persuasive, quieting, convincing. Three such conferences have been observed in the Mosque of Suleiman, without mutual disturbance. The speaker seems to count on a reasonable audience and to speak out of a confirmed knowledge.

Pioneer Apothecaries.

Pharmacy and medicine were first made separate professions by the monks and priests of the Tenth and Eleventh centuries. The father of the apothecaries seems to have been Constantine Afer of Carthage. Their preparations and potions were sold to the rich and given to the poor. No apothecaries are mentioned in France prior to 1684.

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin. Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Edward Arthur Rafferty post No. 682.

Let these few words express our congratulations for the supper you gave to the public on Saturday evening, Jan. 27. It certainly shows in what regard the ladies are held in this community by the way the public helped in making this affair an overwhelming success.

One of these—and it begins in next week's issue—is a stirring mystery story, The Orange Divan, by Valentine Williams.

But fiction is only a small part of the practical farm and home helpfulness and inspirational entertainment that make up every one of the 52 issues of this great national farm-weekly which I represent. Just let me mention a few of the articles in next week's issue, for example: Crabtree and the "Gogs," a discussion of whether or not it will be feasible to cooperate to reduce seepage. Assessor, Spare That Tree, an analysis of the farmers' woodlots and the danger of over-taxation; "Them Days is Gone Forever," a scathing arraignment of the "wets," by Billy Sunday; Coasting the Golden Egg, by Harry R. Lewis; Consolidated Schools Do Cost More, by A. B. Macdonald, and others.
